

GRIFCO

TRAVEL PUBLIC RELATIONS

Publication: The Daily Telegraph Ultra
Travel

Date: 16th January 2016

Circulation: 480,630

PR Value: £146,655

Saturday 16 January 2016

telegraph.co.uk

Irish Republic €2.30 No 49,966 £2.00

Slim & Trim 20 healthy recipes

Free inside

Exclusive 40-page booklet from
The Medicinal Chef

The Daily Telegraph

Travel special
44 pages of exciting
holiday ideas

Plus
28-page cruise
pull-out

Travel

Are you in a Zombie nation?

Easter to fall on the same week every year

By John Bingham
RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS EDITOR

EASTER should fall on the same Sunday every year, the Archbishop of Canterbury has suggested.

The Most Rev Justin Welby said last night that Anglican leaders would join discussions with other church leaders fixed - it affects almost everything you do in the spring and summer. I would love to see it before I retire."

He prompted laughter as he added: "Equally, I think the first attempt to do this was in the 10th century."

Agreement on the issue would bring to an end one of the longest running

Earl and Countess beaten and bound in jewel raid

GRIFCO

TRAVEL PUBLIC RELATIONS

Publication: The Daily Telegraph Ultra
Travel

Date: 16th January 2016

Circulation: 480,630

PR Value: £146,655

Publication: The Daily Telegraph Ultra Travel

Date: 16th January 2016

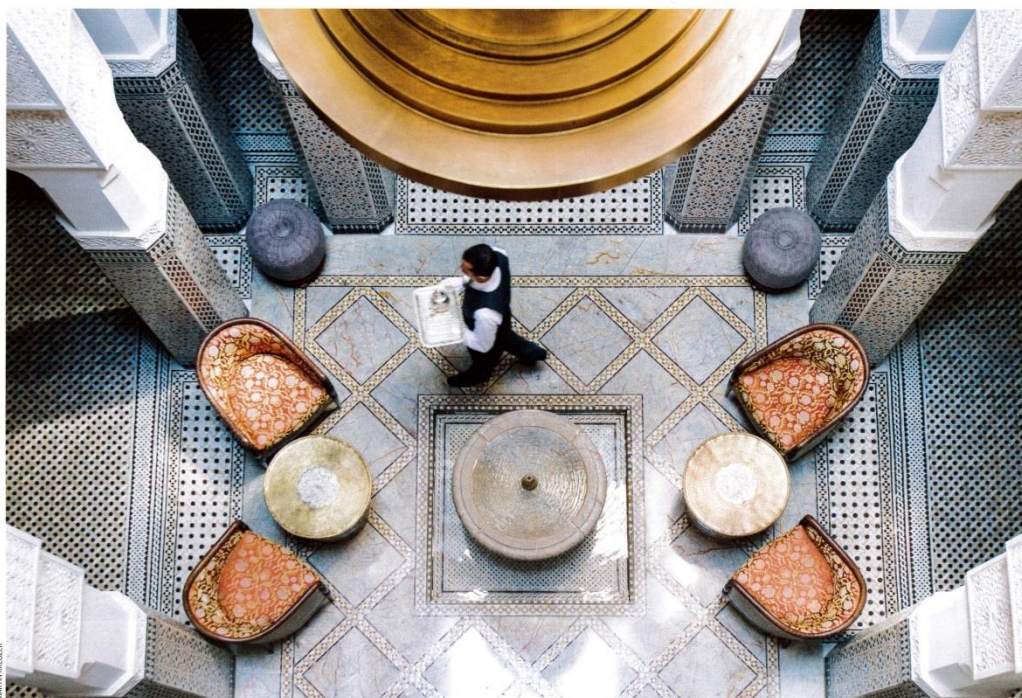

Circulation: 480,630

PR Value: £146,655

The MIDDLE EAST, AFRICA & INDIAN OCEAN

OUR EXPERTS Rosemary Behan, Pippa de Bruyn, Tim Ecott, Lisa Grainger, Johnny Morris

MARTIN KROUZER

ROYAL MANSOUR Marrakech - MOROCCO

PEOPLE DON'T COME to this hotel for a buzz or to be part of a scene. It was built at the behest of Morocco's king, Mohammed VI, as a garden oasis and a showcase for Moroccan craftsmanship, and is a palace of calm. What sings out loud, though, is the beauty of the buildings: intricately carved domed ceilings, walls adorned with zellij tiles, elaborate stucco detail and charming, homely mud-walled riads with fireplaces, characterful bedrooms and roof terraces for sundowners. For those who do want to see other people, there's a glam cigar lounge and a cocktail bar, the best hotel boutique in Marrakech, and a cathedral-sized white spa and hammam in which to steam. Or there is exquisite food to savour: French and Moroccan morsels by the Parisian Michelin-starred chef Yannick Alléno, and a perfect breakfast served outdoors beside lemon trees, from thick orange juice and crisp French pastries to sweet Moroccan figs and honey. If you ever wanted to know how kings lived, this is where you find out. LG

Doubles from £550; royalmansour.com
Full review telegraph.co.uk/royalmansour

NORTH ISLAND SEYCHELLES

IT'S NO coincidence that Hollywood chose North as the real incarnation of Thunderbirds' Tracy Island for the film. Guests, a mixture of potentates, oligarchs, celebrities and royals, arrive by helicopter from Mahé to stay in just 11 totally private villas. They're so spacious that 10 are labelled Presidential and the biggest simply called Villa North Island. North redefines beach chic, with sumptuous natural fabrics and acres of polished driftwood furniture and doors. Guests set their own dress code, and order whatever they like from the chef. This isn't simply a smart hotel and spa beside a beach covered in fine sand the colour of spun sugar. It has some of Seychelles' best diving and fishing, kite-surfing and hiking. Nesting turtles regularly come ashore, and on the long west beach there are flying foxes, fairy terns, whimbrels and crab plovers: evidence of the owners' pledge to make it a Noah's Ark. TE
Doubles from £4,435; north-island.com
Full review telegraph.co.uk/northisland