BEACH STAYS

Close to nature, these four beach resorts are fused with luxury and adventure at a same time

IMPRESSIONS: SHIVANGI ASTHANA

BAROS MALDIVES, REPUBLIC OF MALDIVES

It is a spot immersed in pristine beaches, miles of turquoise waters, transparent blue lagoons, and bright blue skies. Nestled in the Indian Ocean, it is a magical destination for a perfect long weekend. On discovering this enchanting island, one can learn about its rich culture, experience traditional cuisine and explore its impressive marine life, while indulging in the exquisitely furnished private villas. It has wide range of 45 beach side and 30 water villas, all with direct access to the beautiful lagoon either from the veranda or by the wooden steps from the sundeck, the majority of these villas even have private plunge pools. On the deck, the canopied daybed and sun loungers can be used to enjoy the weather and the serene water. Inside, spaces are enveloped with effortless charm - a comfortable bed, rich wooden furnishings and bespoke baros amenities. This idyllic resort destination offers a range of activities for both thrill-seeking couples and daring solo travellers.

NORTH ISLAND, SEYCHELLES

It is the ultimate in exclusive personalised travel, catering to the 21st century family, making it the ideal destination for a grand getaway. Located within the inner islands of the Seychelles, 30 kilometers away from the main island, it enjoys a unique private location nestled away from all distractions. One's itinerary is completely tailor-made and personalised to each guest's wishes; from activities to dining for incredible experiences. North Island villas have been created from local materials harvested during the island rehabilitation process, balancing luxury and simplicity to form a signature architectural style called 'barefoot luxury.' The colours evoke the marine environment, and the fusion of rough and smooth textures, and simple and sophisticated forms combine to create an entirely authentic, contextual, and sumptuous sanctuary. Each villa is completely screened from view by careful siting in harmony with the natural vegetation.
