NORTH ISLAND

SEYCHELLES

► You obviously expect a certain level of beauty from the Seychelles, but the region's North Island is painfully pretty and, with just 11 villas there's nothing to ruin that natural beauty. In fact, given the size of the beaches, there's a good chance you won't run in to another soul - other than the legion of staff there catering to your every single whim.

If you want to go all the way, the astounding 750 square-metre Villa North Island is an object lesson in private luxury. It can only be booked by couples, but why would anyone want to waste those perfect sunsets by flying solo?

No matter where you lay your head, there's plenty to do those few hours that you're off the sand: scuba diving in the pristine waters, guided walks to the island's granite peaks or even a spot of fishing. Getting back to reality is going to be painful.
